Eurisko Sails West is an exciting and informative book that chronicles the adventures of a family of four as they sail from the Caribbean to the Pacific Ocean. The book is full of beautiful photos and detailed descriptions of the family's experiences, making it a great read for anyone who loves sailing, adventure, or travel.

The Family

The family behind Eurisko Sails West is the Van Sant family. The family consists of parents Mark and Dawn, and their two children, Emma and Sam. The Van Sants are experienced sailors, and they have been sailing together for over 10 years. They have sailed all over the world, but their journey from the Caribbean to the Pacific Ocean was their most ambitious adventure yet.

The Journey

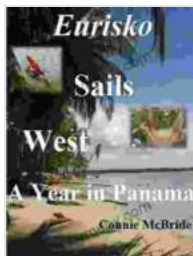

The Van Sants' journey began in the Caribbean Sea. They sailed from the island of Curaçao to the Panama Canal. The Panama Canal is a massive engineering feat that allows ships to travel between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. The Van Sants were amazed by the size and complexity of the canal, and they were grateful for the opportunity to sail through it.

After passing through the Panama Canal, the Van Sants sailed into the Pacific Ocean. They spent the next year exploring the coast of Panama. They visited beautiful islands, met friendly people, and had some amazing adventures. They also learned a lot about Panama's history and culture.

The Book

Eurisko Sails West is a beautifully written and illustrated book. The Van Sants' writing is clear and concise, and their photos are stunning. The book is full of interesting information about Panama, and it is a great read for anyone who loves sailing, adventure, or travel.

Eurisko Sails West is a must-read for anyone who loves sailing, adventure, or travel. The Van Sants' story is inspiring and their photos are beautiful. The book is full of interesting information about Panama, and it is a great way to learn about this amazing country.
